

SMH promotes LaCaze to head girls' basketball coach

NATCHITOCHEs, La. - St. Mary's High School announced the promotion of assistant coach Robyn LaCaze to girls' head basketball coach, the school announced Monday.

LaCaze has been at SMH for the last years as the junior girls' head coach and assistant coach for the Lady Tigers' varsity.

Before being hired by St. Mary's, LaCaze played at Anacoco High School where she won four state championships before getting a scholarship at Holmes Community College in Goodman, Mississippi playing both basketball and softball.

She returned to Louisiana in 2014 and has spent the last 10 years coaching basketball, softball, and a little baseball.

Robyn has an Associate of Arts Degree from Holmes Community College and a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Northwestern State University. Robyn is married to Lieutenant Shane LaCaze and they have two boys, Mavryk and Kross, who both attend and play sports for SMS.
